

Report: Sparsh Hospice

“Although the world is full of suffering, it is also the full of overcoming it.”

The life of chronic disorder people in their final stages is very miserable and difficult to lead life. Sparsh Hospice is a home for the cancer patients who are in the advanced stages and are non-treatable.

On the occasion of Republic Day, Team VNRSF visited Sparsh Hospice to spend time with the cancer victims and to make monetary donation. Most of the inmates of the hospice are in the final stages and are being provided overall facilities. Rather than Medical treatment, all are given mental medication for staying relaxed wiping of all the miseries.

Team members interacted with sufferers of whom professional teachers, singers are also a part. The mental confidence of these brave people boosted up the levels of self confidence in the team members. Team also cleaned the surroundings and planted the trees in the garden.
